Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 17-22 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sharma et al. (US 6,162,869).

The reference composition comprises an acrylic polymer and a polymeric fluorescent compound. The preferred polymeric fluorescent comprises repeat units 2,5-bis-(4'-carbomethoxystyryl-phenyl)-1,2,4-oxadiazole (see col. 8, lines 27-32). The process for preparing the reference composition is dispersed 0.1-50 wt. % of a polymeric fluorescent and mixed with an acrylic monomer and polymerization is performed. The reference further teaches the method for distinguishing a fluorescing article from a non-fluorescing article by exposing the article to ultraviolet radiation and detecting the emitted blue visible light from the irradiated article through blue visible light detector. The reference article comprises a container, paper, coating, ink, paint, wallpaper, wallboard, fiber, film, a plastic object, wood, concrete, metal, ceramic or thermoplastic composite (i.e., the present substrate). The water dispersible acrylic polymer-optical brightener composition can be melt and blended with other polymers and extruded to produce films, fibers and plastics.

The reference differs from the claims in that the claimed authenticatable polymer comprising an optically tag having a fluorescence emission whose wavelength or intensity changes over time. Because the reference composition comprising polymeric fluorescent compound with oxadiazole core is similar the claimed polymer, it would have been obvious to those skilled in the art to expect have the similar properties of the fluorescence emission (wavelength or intensity) changes over time.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-16 are allowed.
4. Claims 23-26 and 28 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Shean C. Wu whose telephone number is 571-272-1393. The examiner can normally be reached on 9:30 AM to 6:00 PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Mark Huff can be reached on 571-272-1385. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
